PATRICK KING

Patrick King is an editorial and commercial photographer residing in Cape Town, South Africa. Patrick's clients and subject-base range include leaders in the renewable energies industry to grassroots, non-profit organizations working in both rural and urban South Africa.

Ever since arriving in Malawi in late 2000, sub-Saharan Africa has continued to intrigue him and is the driving force to being involved with organizations like Tindakan. Patrick's place on the Board is one in which he is excited about serving as a liaison between the staff and board located in the USA and projects based in Southern Africa. He will also contribute to the visual materials created for Tindakan and its partners.
